Russians Reject Protests, May Try to Make Clean Sweep

Red Official Makes Bitter Speech in Support of Blockade

Berlin, April 2 (AP)—The Russians tartly rejected western protests today on the Soviet blockade of Berlin and hinted at possible new moves to push the Americans, British and French out of the city.

The western powers took to the air to beat the blockade. Flight after flight of U. S. Air Force planes carried food and passengers. At peak periods this morning they landed at Tempelhof Airport, the U. S. field in Berlin, at the rate of one a minute. The British and French adopted similar measures.

Col. Sergei Tulpanov, the Soviet military administration's information chief, asserted that "what we have decided on border and traffic controls will remain in force." These controls, instituted early yesterday with less than 24 hours

Bus Company May Bid for Fare Boost If Lines Continue

No Opposition Is Offered at Hearing Before P. S.C. to Fairview; Losses Cited

Testimony and arguments for the continuance of the Fairview-Lucas avenue bus route in this city were offered at a hearing before Examiner John F. O'Brien of the Public Service Commission in Albany Thursday afternoon.

No opposition was offered by the Kingston City Transportation Corporation, which was represented by Vice-President Thomas J. Gadd and Attorney N. LeVan Haver. However it was brought out that the route operated at a slight loss, and this coupled with the loss on the Wilbur avenue route may lead to an application for a general fare increase.

No decision on the petition of the city for a permanent certificate for the operation of the Fairview-Lucas route is expected for at least 10 days, according to Corporation Counsel James G. Connelly. After O'Brien has collated the testimony he will present it to the commissioners at a meeting for their consideration and decision.

The city was represented at the hearing by Connelly, Alderman James E. Martin and Sueprvisor Harold C. Osterhoudt, both of the Twelfth Ward, were present to offer testimony for the granting of the permanent certificate.

Alderman Martin presented the hearing examiner with the petition containing over 1,500 signatures of persons favoring the continuation of the route. He also testified to the fact that the section served by the route is one of the fastest growing sections of the city, with more new homes being erected there than in any other part.

The bus company representatives stated that they "neither sought nor opposed" the resolu-

Board Studies Case Based On Poultry House as Factory

New York, April 2 (AP)—The State Labor Department Board of Standards and Appeals weighed the question of how and when a farm building becomes subject to rules and regulations for factories.

The problem was aired yesterday before three board officials at a hearing involving Linwood Farms, operated by J. Ruppert Schalk, at Rhinebeck, N. Y.

The farm had appealed a ruling by Industrial Commissioner Edward Corsi which classified one of the structures on it as a factory because it housed machinery for processing and packing eggs and poultry.

At yesterday's hearing a farm group official said if the board upheld the industrial commissioner's ruling "a large number of farming enterprises throughout the state may be classified as factories and subjected to * * * costly rules and regulations."

In a statement submitted to the board C. K. Bullock, of Ithaca, associated secretary of the New York State Farm Bureau Federation, said its 86,000 members in 56 of the state's farming counties were "keenly interested in the case."

Bullock said machine power was used increasingly by farmers "to the great advantage of the 14,200,000 food consumers in the state.

"Any action by the state of New York which will result in retarding this natural and desirable trend in the more efficient production and marketing of food will be detrimental not simply to farmers but to all of the food consumers."

Warren W. Hawley of Batavia, president of the federation, said

Dewey Stakes Wisconsin Chances On Blasts at Reds, Talk of Peace

Governor Hits General and Stassen; Lets Go Hard in Radio Broadcast

Milwaukee, April 2 (AP)—Gov. Thomas E. Dewey staked his chances for Wisconsin presidential backing today on a program of blasting Communism but keeping the peace.

As the turn of politics sent New Dealer Chester Bowles scurrying from President Truman's camp, the three-way bout for Wisconsin's 27 G.O.P. nominating votes reached an infighting stage before Tuesday's primary.

Dewey led off with a sharp flurry of punches at Mr. Truman's "wobbling" foreign policies.

The New York governor aimed a right at Gen. Douglas MacArthur's "military genius"—which Dewey said isn't enough to win the cold war with Moscow.

He let go a left hook at Harold E. Stassen's "inexperience" in dealing with Communism.

Stassen countered with a roundhouse claim that he will get the support of 14 of Wisconsin's delegates.

He suggested MacArthur and Dewey backers might be ganging up on him. By inference he left them to divide the delegation minority.

MacArthur's counter-attack was handled by Rep. A. L. Miller (R.-Neb.) and Phil LaFollette, former Wisconsin governor running as a MacArthur delegate.

Miller told a boost-MacArthur banquet here last night the country needs a president "who Red Joe in Moscow fears and respects."

In Eau Claire, where Dewey planned a speech today, LaFollette said people can judge MacArthur on his record and don't need to rely on campaign promises.

Faced with a highly doubtful outcome in the Wisconsin battle, Dewey pulled out the stops on Communism before a capacity crowd of 1,500 in a Milwaukee theatre last night.

In a 3,000-word speech broadcast nationally (NBC), the New York governor brought up the subject of Communism and Soviet Russia 32 times. He mentioned

Speakers Listed For Italian Night To Stem Red Tide

Committee Completes Its Program for Saturday to Help Keep Italy Out of Ranks

Committeemen in charge of arranging the program for Italian Night scheduled for Saturday at 8 o'clock in the municipal auditorium anticipate a large attendance at the event planned for the purpose of helping to stem the tide of Communism in Italy.

Speakers at the big rally will be the Rt. Rev. Msgr. Martin J. Drury, pastor of St. Mary's Church and dean of Ulster and Sullivan counties; Mayor Oscar V. Newkirk; County Judge John M. Cashin; Attorney Bernard A. Culloton, former city judge, who, during World War 2, served as a lieutenant colonel in AMGOT in Italy and Charles J. Tiano, sports editor of The Freeman, a veteran of World War 2.

All Italian families of Kingston and surrounding area are invited, in fact, urged to attend the meeting, bringing with them addresses of relatives in Italy. Purpose for furnishing the addresses is so that letters typed by volunteers may be sent to them pointing out the dangers of Communism. The letters will be mailed on Monday.

Alderman at Large Charles J. Turck, commenting on the aims of Italian Night, said, "Every family should bring at least one address. The importance of these letters cannot be stressed too strongly. We must keep Italy from going Communistic. It is up to us in this country to do our utmost to stop the spread of Communism, not only in Italy but here in our own United States. Let's all do our part."

Besides the speeches, there will be entertainment and a dance.

Paul Dones, guitarist, and three other Italian artists, will play and sing Italian and American songs. Their services were obtained through Michael Prisco, who recalled the excellent program they furnished at the auditorium last year.

Music for the dance will be furnished through the courtesy of the musicians union, members of which have volunteered their services for the patriotic event.

There will be no admission charge. A cordial invitation is extended to the public to attend.

Dodd May Get Post

Washington, April 2 (AP)—A government career man may soon move into the cabinet as secretary of agriculture. He may be either Undersecretary Norris E. Dodd, an Oregon rancher, or Assistant Secretary Charles F. Brannan, a Denver lawyer. Both have been in government service since 1933. Leaders of major organizations said today they have been told by administration officials they describe as "very reliable" that Dodd will be named to succeed Clinton P. Anderson. Anderson has announced that he will quit as secretary this spring or early summer to run for the Senate in New Mexico. He seeks the seat of Senator Hatch (D) who is not a candidate for re-election.

Blames Illinois Car

Jacob A. Hummel of 24 Liberty street reported to police at 7:40 p. m. Thursday that his car was struck in the left rear by a car bearing an Illinois license, which continued on without stopping. He said his car was not damaged, but believes the other car received some damage. The accident happened as Hummel was turning from East Chester street into Hasbrouck avenue, police said.

U.S. Stockpile Is Behind Schedule

Washington, April 2 (AP)—The United States is behind schedule in building up its stockpile of critical war materials, the Munitions Board said today.

The report was made by board chairman T. J. Hargrave in a letter to Chairman Gurney (R-S.D.) of the Senate Armed Services Committee.

The board is building up stocks of strategic and critical materials and planning for "any emergency within the next two years," Hargrave said.

But he added: "The stockpile program over a five-year period is behind schedule and we have an unbalanced stockpile."

Construction Costs Serious Threat to School Facilities

Albany, N. Y., April 2 (AP)—Public school enrollment in New York will increase by 380,000 to reach 2,845,000 by 1955, an Education department official predicted today.

Dr. Harry V. Gilson, associate commissioner, termed high construction costs "a serious threat to early provision of added facilities." He warned against "a serious decline in educational benefit to those now in the schools and to those who will enter in the next few years."

Gilson suggested these schedules of daily sessions which, he stressed, represented "the minimum — not the recommended schedules needed" to cover state programs at various levels:

Kindergarten—five hours for all-day sessions and two and one-half hours for half-day sessions; grades 1 through 6—five hours,

Aid Legislation May Be Sent To White House Late Today

Washington, April 2 (AP)—A $6,098,000,000 "package" of American aid for Europe and China was wrapped up for special congressional delivery to the White House today.

Both Senate and House, barring a major upset, were due to take final action on the omnibus measure before nightfall.

The compromise bill was agreed to unanimously by Senate and House conferees only 15 minutes ahead of the midnight deadline that had to be met to permit passage today.

Approval by the two houses will send the measure to President Truman a full week ahead of the time table laid down by congressional leaders.

It will bring to an end three months of toil and debate on a foreign aid program marking a new milestone in this country's relations with other nations.

Mr. Truman's swift approval is a foregone conclusion.

The single package measure, containing provisions for both economic and military aid, is designed to send American dollars flowing into world trouble zones to help stem Russian expansion. It provides for:

(a) $5,300,000,000 for the first 12 months of a 4¼ year European recovery program in which 16 western European nations and western Germany will take part on self-help basis.

(b) $463,000,000 in assistance to China. Of that amount $338,000,000 is to be used for economic purposes. The remaining $125,000,000 is set aside for use in any way the nationalist government of Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek sees fit—undoubtedly for

Probe to Be Made Into Air Crash on Catskill Mountain

Willis and Evans Will Be Buried at West Point; Hack Path Through Heavy Woods

An investigation to determine the cause of the Wednesday night crash of a B-25 bomber near West Shokan was reported in progress at Stewart Field, Newburgh, today as authorities said that the bodies of the three victims were expected to be removed to the morgue at West Point sometime today.

The airfield officials announced yesterday that the investigation would be in the hands of competent engineering officers who will report their findings to a qualified board of U. S. Air Force officials.

Members of a Stewart Field crash crew, assisted by state police and others, meanwhile, labored since early morning to bring the bodies from the spot in the heavily wooded mountain country where the bomber crashed shortly after 8 p. m. Wednesday.

Some parts of the forested area were so dense, it was reported, that it was necessary to cut through underbrush and thickets for clearing paths in removing the bodies.

Stewart Field indicated today that Capt. Richard B. Willis, 27, formerly of LaPryor, Texas, and more recently of Cranford, N. J., one of the victims may be buried at West Point.

Willis was a graduate of the U. S. Military Academy in 1943. He flew as a pilot in 51 combat missions in fighter-bombers during 16 months in the European theatre. He was awarded the air medal with nine oak leaf clusters, the E.T.O. ribbon with six battle stars and the distinguished unit cluster.

Capt. Willis is survived by his wife, the former Winifred M. Miller, of La Pryor, Texas, and a son, Richard W. His father, was the late Col. Richard W. Willis.

Lt. Bobbie Crandall, 25, of Compton, Calif., the other commissioned officer in the plane, received his commission in December 1943 and following special training was assigned to the E.T.O.

Message Is Given, Then Vote Comes

Prominent Democrats Join Republicans in Deciding to Destroy Veto

Gives Support

Rayburn Says Truman Stand Is Right, Sees No Reductions

Washington, April 2 (AP)—The House today passed the $4,800,000,000 tax cut bill over President Truman's veto. Voting to override were 229 Republicans and 82 Democrats. Supporting the veto were 84 Democrats, two Republicans and the two American Labor party members.

Republicans voting to sustain the veto were representatives Carl Andersen of Wisconsin and Morton of Kentucky.

That put it up to the Senate whether taxpayers are to get the cut in spite of Mr. Truman's objection that it would "undermine the soundness of our government finances at a time when world peace depends upon the strength of the United States."

Leaders said the Senate would vote to override the veto and make the cut law before the day is done. Such leading Democrats as Senators Lucas of Illinois and George of Georgia said they would vote to override.

The measure cuts taxes on 1948 income for all the 52,000,000 income taxpayers and drops 7,400,000 with smaller incomes from the taxpaying rolls. Slashes range from 12.6 per cent in the lowest bracket to five per cent in the highest.

The House acted within the hour after it got a vigorously-worded veto message from Mr. Truman.

The President told the legislators that this was not time to cut taxes. He also said the bill sent him was not fair—it gave too much of the cut to those with larger incomes.

On the vote, many influential Democrats lined up with the Republicans to brush aside his arguments.

Republican Leader Halleck of Indiana got out a statement noting that Mr. Truman vetoed two tax-cutting bills last year.

"This," he said, "is just an extension of his stubborn opposition to much-needed tax relief and equalization."

Speaker Martin (R.-Mass.) said Congress can make the tax cut and still meet the government's spending needs for a stronger national defense.

There were similar comments from other Republicans.

House Democratic leader Rayburn of Texas, issued a statement supporting the veto. He said he can see no way to reduce taxes by $4,800,000,000 "and at the same time do the honest, straight-forward thing and make our nation secure from attack and stop the aggression of desperadoes in the world."

Effective May 1, the bill reduces all tax withholdings from pay envelopes and salary checks. It also:

1. Increases the present $500 personal exemption to $600.

2. Applies the "community property" principle to all states, allowing husbands and wives to divide the family income equally for tax reporting purposes—thus holding the tax rates at lower bracket levels. A dozen states now have this principle by local law.

3. Provides percentage cuts of 12.6 per cent on the first $2,000 of taxable income (after deductions and exemptions); 7.4 per cent on that part of the income above $2,000 and up to $136,700; and five per cent on any income above $136,700.

4. Gives an additional $600 exemption to persons 65 years or older bringing their total exemption to $1,200. Exemptions for blind persons also are increased.

Mr. Truman sent the legislators a 2,000-word veto message.

"It is a bad policy," he said, "to reduce taxes in a manner which would encourage inflation and bring greater hardship, not relief, to our people.

"It is a bad policy to endanger the soundness of our national finances at a time when our re-

Shifting to U.A.W.

New York, April 2 (AP)—The United Automobile Workers (C.I.O.) reported yesterday its largest enrollment here to date of members of the United Electrical Workers (C.I.O.). Charles Kerrigan, U.A.W. regional director, said about 1,500 day-shift workers at the Mergenthaler Linotype Company's Brooklyn plant had signed cards applying for membership in the U.A.W. The U.A.W. reportedly predicted that signatures of the night shift workers would bring the total up to 2,000 by today. The plant, which makes typesetting machines, now has a contract with Local 475 of the electrical union. Kerrigan repeated yesterday that his union is not "raiding" the Electrical Workers Union. The U.A.W., he said, simply is accepting members who are dissatisfied with policies and who, he said, have been threatening to quit the C.I.O. unless the U.A.W. took them in.

Big Chiefs Won't Talk

Nespelem, Wash., April 2 (AP)—Nespelem was connected with the outside world by direct telephone service yesterday but two chiefs of the Colville Indian tribe declined to participate in the ceremonies. Chief Peter Dan Mosse also declined the honor of being the first to talk over the telephone circuit. He gave no reason. The inauguration of service in this northern Washington hamlet went ahead on schedule, however—with white men putting in the first calls to the outside.

Bright Spots Are Evident In Nation's Crops Picture

San Francisco, April 2 (AP)—Prospects for the varied crops of the Rocky Mountain and Far Western states range from uncertain to good. Drouth casts a shadow over important areas.

California—Leading the nation in crop values in recent years—and sections of Idaho and Nevada have been hit by winter drouth.

Some field crop acreages and fields will be lowered in the dry belt. The outlook for fruits, nuts and vegetables in California is clouded.

In the other states of the region moisture conditions are mostly satisfactory. That means a favorable outlook in Colorado, Wyoming, Montana, Utah, Oregon and Washington.

Field, tree and bush crops in this region are perhaps the most varied of any section of the country. They are oranges and lemons; apples, peaches and other deciduous fruits; almonds and walnuts; figs and olives; cotton and flax; potatoes, artichokes and other vegetables; all the grains, hays, livestock, turkeys and hops for beer.

Production last year was valued at more than 20 per cent of the national total.

Aside from water, probably the most important factor, there are the usual farm problems. Machinery shortages, especially in tractors, still plague ranches. But they are trading use of machines where the situation is critical.

State by State

But there are many bright spots in the picture. Here it is, state by state.

California—Water is the key to farming in this state. It is needed for irrigation and power. Some of the largest producing areas, such as the San Joaquin valley, have had the dryest year on record. Others, like the Imperial and Pala Verde valleys which depend on Colorado river water, are not affected by the drouth. Most of the citrus areas have ample water.

So the state's agriculture is topsy-turvy. Pastures dried up early but started greening under good March rains. Winter growing barley was hard hit.

Thirsty crops will be replaced in many areas by others of an arid nature. Thus there will be more cotton and less alfalfa; more beans and less rice.

How the state as a whole will end up the season is anyone's guess. George A. Scott of the state crop reporting service said it would be "pure recklessness" to make an estimate now.

Expects Normal Pack

A. W. Eames, president of the California Packing Corp., expected a normal pack of peaches, barring a late frost. The water shortage may affect the 1949 crop, however, he said. He viewed the outlook for tomatoes and other vegetables as normal if current rains continue and mountain snows are not melted by an early warm spell.

Colorado—This state of mountain grandeur has had a hard winter with lots of snow. Wet fields have delayed spring planting but the general outlook is good. Ranges are in good condition and the state has about 2 per cent more cattle than last year. Winter wheat prospects were reduced by a dry fall in the southeastern area.

Idaho—Shortages of labor and water cloud farm prospects in the Gem State. Fruit growers are optimistic, however, and a bumper crop of potatoes is foreseen.

Montana—With an eye on prices and world demands, farmers are increasing crop acreages and expect to seed more than 5,000,000 acres. The outlook for wheat and other grains is generally good. More land will be planted to dry beans, potatoes, corn and wheat and less to dry peas, hay and flax.

Nevada—A dry winter in western Nevada will curtail yields of onions, potatoes and hay. The outlook for cattle, however, is good.

Oregon—The overall outlook in the Webfoot state is good although nothing can be said about fruit until the blossom stage has passed, several weeks hence.

Utah—Most farms are small in this industrial state and poultry and its products top the agriculture picture.

Washington—Farmers in the Evergreen state are pinning their hopes on the best moisture conditions in several years. Wheat is a major crop and the outlook, therefore, is good. Apple growers expect good yields but are wary of the price situation.

Jewish Food Convoy Tries to Blast Passage

Jerusalem, April 2 (AP)—A Jerusalem-bound Jewish food convoy reportedly tried today to blast through fierce Arab gunfire in the Judean hills.

Early, scant reports said it was thrown back with loss of life on both sides.

The convoy, trying to get food to the beleaguered Holy City, has been stalled by Arab guns for two days only 15 miles from Jerusalem's gates. Arabs have dug in on the Judean hills commanding approaches of the Tel Aviv-Jerusalem road.

Jewish sources reported 17 Jews and some 30 Arabs were killed in the convoy's first effort Wednesday to crash through to Jerusalem's hungary Jews.

Originally 75 trucks rolled toward Jerusalem. Five armored cars were lost in the first skirmish, but ten reportedly squeezed through.

Haganah, the Jewish militia, put the lid on news about the convoy. It denied formally that the 10 trucks got through but occupants of the trucks were interviewed.

There was only sporadic gunfire reported elsewhere in Palestine today.

Last night the British dropped mortar shells into the Montefiore district of Jerusalem in an effort to break up a bloody fight between Jews and Arabs. Montefiore is a Jewish quarter.

It's NO. 1 on the "It" Parade

It's much the same way with cars as with people.

Some "have it" — some don't.

Some you go for, all out — without quite being able to lay a finger on why. And those — well, they usually become your firmest friends.

What is it that makes so many good folks say this trim honey's "got it"? Good looks? One has to admit it's nice to ride in a car that is unmistakably itself and not just a slightly modified version of something else.

Size, weight? Well, the polls tell us it's a pretty important factor since, if you like an automobile that does things, there just is no substitute for brawn and solid substance.

Power? Naturally. You can't sit long behind this big Fireball straight-eight without falling for it plenty hard.

Handling? Ride? Room? They all have their avid fans among Buick owners. Especially now with a completely new kind of engine mounting ironing out vibration build-up as never before, and in this Convertible model, with automatic top, door-window and front-seat adjustment.

Is it the wonderful new Dynaflow Drive* that's causing so much talk?

In ROADMASTER models that is certainly a big factor. You'll never know how silky smooth a drive can be — what fluent new ease there is to all your going — till you drive the car where liquid replaces both the clutch and first, second and high gears.

But as nearly as we can find out — and we talk to a lot of people — it isn't any one thing that puts Buick at the top of the "it" parade. It's the over-all richness of this honey in all the things you've dreamed of finding wrapped in an automobile.

Ask any friend who drives a Buick — then see your dealer and get a firm order in, with or without a car to trade.

WHAT'S DIFFERENT ABOUT DYNAFLOW DRIVE*?

To an efficient new pump (left above), Buick engineers have added a true turbine (right) and an ingenious new supercharging assembly (in hand) which produce a torque-boosting action in starting and accelerating. The result is the first device on any American passenger car which employs liquid to fill the function of both the clutch and the usual low, second and high gears. The clutch pedal is eliminated and a simple control gives you manual selection of power ranges and direction.

*Optional at extra cost on Roadmaster models only.

LOCAL RETAILERS AND CONSUMER

It is probable that never in its history of retailing have local merchants given so much thought and devoted so much work to the problems of the consumer.

The local merchants are doing this for reasons, most of them obvious. First, protection of the purchasing power of the consumer is vital to the existence of retailers. Secondly, retailing always is on the firing line in the debate over inflation. Thirdly, our economy is dependent upon our system of mass production and mass distribution.

Retailing's contribution to the fight against inflation has been obscured partly by the fact that prices remain high. This does not mean that fight has been a complete failure. In the opinion of those who have studied the situation, prices would be substantially higher than they are had retailing done nothing and simply passed the boosts along to the consumer. Instead, by shaving profits, by increasing efficiency, by keeping a tight rein on inventories and by other economies, retailing has saved the people large sums of money.

Regardless of the future price trend, local retailers will work with every weapon to save the consumer dollar from further depreciation.

COUNTING PENNIES

Those weary of hunting change for a 13-cent street car ride, or puzzled about paying for a 3-cent postage stamp, may have wished the government would issue some more convenient coins. If so, the hope had better be dropped right now. The United States mint is not interested, though it gets many requests for new money. New Yorkers, currently plagued by their new 8-cent subway fare, would love to have available a handy coin worth that amount, and they have been at pains to say so.

The present coinage system has been going on with very little change for 75 years. What has been good all these years, Congress thinks, is all right for many more. Before 1873 there were some nice little 3-cent pieces, a 2-center and a 3-center. For a few years during the 1870s there was a 20-cent piece. But for some reason all have disappeared.

Most people like the present coins well enough—except that they go too fast.

THE CZECHS WILL VOTE

A parliamentary election has been scheduled by the new Communist government in Czechoslovakia. It is to be May 23.

The cabinet presents the election as an opportunity for the people of Czechoslovakia to approve or reject the new government. Klement Gottwald, the premier, says that it will be a lawful election, with a contest among parties—those parties recognized by the Communists.

The observer who listens attentively to the confident pre-election mouthings of the Communist spokesmen in Prague should be able to predict the outcome of the election with a degree of accuracy which in the United States would be phenomenal.

One proof that the United States is still going on as usual is to read that the coal miners are striking.

STASSEN'S DANGER

Stassen had better beware, or he will be nominated for vice-president in spite of himself. He told Cleveland reporters that he might be willing to run for vice-president, unless the ticket should be headed by Dewey. Whether he would consent to be a running-mate for Taft was unstated, though Taft seems further removed from Stassen in policy than Dewey.

Usually the only way to avoid the vice-presidency is to refuse it positively. Governor Warren of California did so at the 1944 Republican convention. Otherwise the rule is that any prominent candidate for president who fails to make the grade is considered suitable material for vice-president. And this job, which should be the second most important in the country, is actually, as John Adams once said, the most useless ever contrived by man.

But it needs a good man—just in case.

Don't scorn pugilism. That's one of the ways men flatter their egos—by proxy.

'These Days'

By George E. Sokolsky

PERSONNEL

Now that ERP has fought its way through Congress and will undoubtedly be passed in a very changed form, the important question is, Who is to administer it? The roving ambassador will undoubtedly be Lewis Douglas, who is a competent and experienced person, having seen service in the Legislative and Executive branches of the government, in private business and in diplomacy. He is a capable negotiator and while he served under both Presidents Roosevelt and Truman, he has never been a New Dealer and cannot be included among those who got us into our present mess.

For the Administrator of ERP, five names have been suggested which merit our attention: William L. Clayton, Paul G. Hoffman, Eric Johnston, Ferdinand Eberstadt and John J. McCloy of the World Bank.

Of the five, William L. Clayton ought to be excluded on the ground that he was in the State Department when it got the United States into most of its present difficulties and he negotiated the British loan which was misrepresented to the American people by our government. In a word, what this country needs most is a clean sweep. It requires men who have had no connection with the structure of untruths that brought down upon our heads a situation the consequences of which we cannot foresee. Everybody connected with Teheran, Yalta and Potsdam, with the Quebec Conference and the Morgenthau Plan, with the propagandistic untruths surrounding the British loan ought to be retired from public life. That is the only way to produce an objective view of our current problems. Apart from this general principle, I have no criticism to offer of Clayton.

Paul G. Hoffman is the President of the Studebaker Company and operates the Committee for Economic Development, known as the C.E.D., which has gained considerable popularity among business men. He is a likeable person, an excellent speaker and good public relations counsel. I know of nothing in his career that would fit him to administer ERP.

Eric Johnston is much the same type as Paul G. Hoffman. He has been President of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States and now holds Will Hay's job with the motion picture industry. He recently negotiated successfully an agreement with the British government for the motion picture industry. Apart from that, he has neither the experience nor the qualifications to administer ERP.

Neither Hoffman nor Johnston could be counted on to do anything that might make them unpopular, no matter how right and beneficial to the nation the courting of unpopularity might be. Clayton, Hoffman and Johnston are big spenders who would probably end up by asking for more. I, as one citizen, have no confidence in their capacity to resist European, particularly British, blandishments.

Ferdinand Eberstadt, by training, experience, character and knowledge, fits the post. But Truman may resist his appointment. Eberstadt is a banker and industrialist and Truman, in his present terror of Wallace, might resist appointing bankers to important positions, even though, as regards ERP, it is a banking position which can best be filled only by a banker. It is being suggested that Secretary of Defense Forrestal may object to Eberstadt. This is difficult to believe as both men made their careers in the same banking house, Dillon, Read, and have often been associated. Eberstadt was Chairman of the Army and Navy Munitions Board, 1942; he was Vice-Chairman of the War Production Board, 1942-3; he prepared the Eberstadt Report for the Secretary of the Navy, 1945, the aforesaid Secretary being Forrestal; he was a member of Bernard Baruch's Atomic Energy Commission and did yeoman service in that fight. Eberstadt would not only do an efficient job but he will protect the United States of America—and blandishments would make no difference.

John J. McCloy has done a first-rate job as head of the World Bank and would be splendid in this position. My vote would be either for Eberstadt or McCloy, if one or the other would be willing to undertake the job. Eberstadt would go to it with good references which would include Bernard Baruch and Herbert Hoover; McCloy has the standing of excellent accomplishments in a difficult office.

That Body of Yours

HOW DOCTOR DETECTS CANCER

"Whenever a cancer is cured (and most cancers can be cured if treated early), it is usually because the patient or his doctor detected it in time. The patient may have noticed one of the more obvious danger signals and has gone straight to the doctor immediately, or the doctor may have detected some hidden clue while checking him over, even before the patient had the slightest suspicion that anything was wrong."

I am quoting from a pamphlet issued by the American Cancer Society which, once a year, tries to bring home to us all the importance of consulting a physician the moment we see anything that "might" be cancer, as this may save our life.

Now it may be thought that cancer specialists, with the aid of laboratory examinations, X-ray and other methods, are the only ones who can detect cancer. "On the contrary any careful physician can detect conditions which may mean cancer, merely by using his eyes, his ears, and hands and a few simple instruments which every physician has in his office." These instruments are a tongue depressor, flashlight, stethoscope, speculum. If in doubt or something you have told him makes him suspicious of cancer of the stomach and intestines, he will arrange for an X-ray examination.

Among the questions your doctor will ask you are:

1. Have you any sore around tongue, mouth or lips, that refuse to heal?
2. Have you noticed any painless lumps or thickening, especially in breast, lip or tongue?
3. Have you at any time noticed any bleeding from any natural body opening or from nipples?
4. Are your bowel habits regular? Have you noted any change?
5. Have you any warts or moles? Has there been any change in any of these?
6. Are you bothered with indigestion? Is it persistent?
7. Have you experienced any persistent hoarseness, unexplained cough or difficulty in swallowing?
8. Have you gained or lost weight recently? How is your appetite?

With your answers to these questions before him, as a help and a guide, your doctor then will be ready to begin his checkup.

Remember, early cancer is curable; late cancer is fatal.

The Danger of Greediness

Russians Regret

notice, claim for the Russians the right to inspect passengers and freight moving by rail and highway through the established corridors in the Soviet zone to and from the city of Berlin.

Tulpanov made his statement, the first official Soviet response to the western protests, in a speech to the Communist-sponsored Socialist Unity Party at Halle. His speech was published prominently in all Russian-controlled newspapers.

Taken as Indication

The bitterness of Tulpanov's remarks against what he called the evil influences of "American and British plunders and imperialists" was taken here as an indication the Russians may be planning even more forceful measures to get the westerners out.

Anti-Communist German political leaders in Berlin, who handed the Communists a beating in the city's only postwar election, urged the western allies not to leave the city. Defying the Russians openly, they declared they would resist totalitarianism in Berlin and they begged the Americans, British and French to show a firm front against Russian demands.

The U. S. military governor, Gen. Lucius D. Clay, has canceled all military train service to the sector rather than submit to Russian inspection. The Americans' emergency air passenger service across the Soviet zone to Berlin was based in Frankfurt, the headquarters of the U. S. zone.

The first passenger plane flying the 20-miles-wide air corridor, protected by international agreement, left Frankfurt with 21 passengers and reached Berlin after an uneventful 233-mile trip. More than 30 planes were to follow before the end of the day, some with passengers and some with supplies for the 8,575 Americans in Berlin.

A few hours after Clay's directive was issued, 15,000 pounds of food had been flown here, an American official said.

The air force in Washington said last night about 100 C-47 transports were available for the job of supplying Berlin, which is more than 100 miles inside the Soviet zone of Germany.

Americans, civilian and military, in the city number 8,575. Americans, British and French total about 25,000.

The Russians' only means of interfering with the U. S. planes apparently would be to shoot or try to force them down at the risk of a serious international incident.

Are Not Halting Trains

They are not halting any of the 32 daily trains carrying food, coal and other needs to Berlin's some 4,500,000 Germans.

Daniel R. Neff, chief of the American Military Government's Water Transport Branch, reporting no interference with barges bringing in supplies for the Germans.

The dispute over the regulation amounted to a question of prestige between Russia and the western nations. The Russians would gain status at the expense of the others should they succeed in forcing them from Germany's old capital.

The British sent their chief of Staff, Maj. Gen. Nebil C. D. Brownjohn, last night to protest personally to Lt. Gen. G. S. Lukjantschenko, Russian chief of staff. He got the answer the Russians must insist upon boarding allied trains.

Then Tulpanov gave answer to all the western allies. He rejected their protests. He said borders of the Soviet zone were being secured to keep out spies.

Says Spies Active

"Masses of spies are coming into Berlin and the entire Soviet occupation zone from the British and American zones in order to spy upon the economy, political situation and Soviet military installations in our zone," said the colonel. "We cannot permit this to continue and therefore we are securing our borders.

"Berlin is being plundered by the Americans and British," he went on, "and thousands (of Germans) are coming from the western zones with enormous sums of money to buy out and weaken the economy of the Soviet zone, dumping their money here in fear of currency reform.

"We shall prevent that the western German monopolists misuse the protection of the British and American occupation powers for their work," he said.

His allegations that masses of Germans are coming into Berlin and the Russian zone from the west are of a type repeatedly branded "ridiculous propaganda" by American authorities.

They regard these Soviet allegations as an alibi to tighten an "iron curtain" at the Elbe and get the western allies out of Berlin.

Official British and American figures show many Germans have been fleeing the Soviet zone, often alleging persecution and forced labor. During February, 15,000 entered the U. S. zone illegally, these figures show.

So They Say...

Soviets' Action in Berlin Could Easily Lead to 'Shooting War' Between United States and Russia

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, April 2—A shooting phase of the "cold war" between the United States and Russia can come at almost any moment should some commander in the European area find himself up against an ambiguous order from his headquarters in either Washington or Moscow.

For the drive by the Soviets to make life miserable for the allies in Berlin and thus cause them voluntarily to withdraw has begun in earnest. It has for a long time been anticipated that, as the French, British and American zones were combined, the Russians would regard Berlin as wholly within their sector and would do everything possible to bring about the removal of the 25,000 allied troops garrisoned in Berlin.

Communication between the Russian commanders and their own government has often been subject to delays and complicated instructions. The allied commanders, on the other hand, have explicit instructions not to move out of Berlin.

The meaning of this plainly is that Britain, France and the United States are not to be bluffed. If Russia commits an overt act, she will have to take full responsibility for the consequences.

The Russian technique is to go as far as possible to force withdrawal but probably short of any actual shooting. The danger is that some misunderstanding may occur and shooting may commence anyway. This would not necessarily mean war, for there would always be the opportunity for either side to say it was a mistake and for the issue to be resolved peacefully.

It may be that the Russians are testing again. When they connived with Marshal Tito in Yugoslavia to fire on American army planes, a show of firmness caused an abrupt ending of that phase of aggressiveness. It may be that the Soviet authorities are anxious to find out how ready the allies are to bring an immediate showdown. They will soon get that answer, as it is believed here that the western allies will insist on keeping their forces in Berlin and if hostilities occur the onus will be placed on the Moscow regime.

If Russia wants war, the Berlin situation is one that could furnish the basis for an outbreak, but, serious as the steps have been in the last few days, there is a disposition here to believe that the Russians will abandon their coercive tactics suddenly.

The fact that American planes are flying food to Berlin offers a test. If any firing on those planes occurs, it may be that retaliatory steps will be inevitable. The American concept of how wars begin is to take a defensive attitude and recognize a state of war only if another country does the attacking.

The American and British and French governments feel they have a right to occupy a portion of Berlin and, if there is any violation of that right, it will be resisted to the utmost.

The prevailing belief here is that the Russians are bluffing and that the incident will blow over. The real factor is that, if shooting commences, it may be difficult to restrain the passions that could develop in both countries.

The American Air Force would be the first to go into action if Americans are attacked. It may be assumed that an adequate quantity of bombs of all kinds have been located at strategic points for instant use. If a crisis does occur, however, America is more likely to demand a cessation of the attacks under penalty of reprisal than to pursue hostilities. Once such a firm communication is sent, the Russians would know whether the United States and the western powers mean business.

The strategy of the Russians may be to provoke an incident with a view toward discouraging the peoples of the western democracies and cause them to withdraw their garrisons. The Russians believe America, France and Britain are war-weary and will withdraw rather than fight. Misinformation is constantly sent to Moscow by its representatives abroad, who tell their government mostly what it wants to hear. Hence an incident involving hostilities and an ultimatum may finally have to develop before the misinformation the Russians are given is throughly dispelled.

Dewey Stakes

peace 18 times. Twenty times he was interrupted by applause.

His greatest response came when, after indorsing Universal Training and a selective draft, he told the crowd:

"I assert with all the force at my command that if we are strong enough your boys and my boys need not be sent into another war."

Audience Approves

The audience approved with applause his sally against MacArthur.

"Military genius no matter how excellent is not the answer that we dare to rely upon for victory in this cold war that gnaws at peace," said Dewey.

Applause also greeted his assertion that, in the end, appeasement of Communism would lead "either to slavery or war."

LaFollette spoke of "our frightened leaders talking of World War III" and of "little men getting frightened, calling for bigger armies, more men."

Miller said that MacArthur "would not feed the American people a daily diet of fear."

"He is one man who understands Russia and would serve notice on Joe Stalin that he could go no further in his aggressive tactics," the congressman said.

The Stassen and Dewey flicks at MacArthur paralleled. Dewey said the general is a fine soldier "who has served his country well for nearly 50 years in the army."

A letter by Senator McCarthy (R.-Wis.), handed out by Stassen aides said MacArthur has been a great general "but he is now ready for retirement." It mentioned that MacArthur would be 72 before a four-year term as president ended.

In another parallel, Dewey and Bowles critized President Truman's use of military men in his administration.

Dewey said the country's policies are "dominated by dozens of military men who by instinct and training think only in terms of war."

Talking of the Democratic situation, in an address at Groton, Conn., Bowles said the man in street "instinctively * * * mistrusts the wisdom and judgement of military-minded men who surround the President.

Sees Little for Democrats

He said the Democrats have little chance of winning if the President is renominated. He suggested Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower as a substitute. He didn't dwell on Eisenhower's military background.

Bowles is a leader in Americans for Democratic Action. His exit from the Truman camp was regarded as an indication this group may take a similar walk at the forthcoming meeting in Philadelphia.

Through all this, Mr. Truman cruised down the Potomac to pick up an honorary degree from William and Mary College at Williamsburg, Va.

There Gov. William Tuck of Virginia, civil rights rebel, will sit on the same platform. The odds were long no political subjects would be discussed.

In Maine, Stassen, Dewey and Senator Robert A. Taft of Ohio battled for that state's 13 delegates at a G.O.P. convention.

William S. Lianell, national committeeman, said he thinks Stassen will get the cream of the crop. Taft and Dewey supporters were reported working together to keep this from happening.

Woodstock Incident

March 29, 1948

Editor, The Freeman:

In connection with the story appearing in your columns in this evening's issue concerning the current commotion in Woodstock over burning crosses and hammer and sickles, is an appeal by Mr. Richard Burlingame for interested people to attend the meetings of his group. There are several aspects in regard to this entire matter that need careful scrutiny and comment.

First—The decent element in our entire community decry such nonsense as burning crosses and will not tolerate such acts. I thought they died with the K.K.K. and I am certain that our local officials will do all in their power to get rid of this type of acting.

Second—I do not know Mr. Burlingame except that I am told that he is a sincere "amateur politician." Therefore I feel that I can be of some assistance in advising him why only a very small minority will attend his meetings. The fact that he allows, as chairman of the P.C.A., individuals such as Fred Briehl, one of the inner circle and top Communists in the United States to take an active part in his meetings, is evidence that local people do not want to associate in groups, or lend dignity to groups, where such individuals are permitted to occupy leading roles. Therefore, the charge that Communists are active in the P.C.A. is absolutely true.

Third Fred Briehl is a top Communist because the official records reveal that he was the candidate for attorney-general on the Communist ticket in New York State in 1934. His public utterances and activities associate him very close to the top command in the New York State Communist Party.

Fourth—Mr. Burlingame and his small but highly vocal group are not the martyrs they are trying to appear. What they are doing is providing a forum for agitation and trouble that is proving to be absolutely the same as the now extinct "Bund".

Space does not permit me to continue, but I do hope that Mr. Burlingame and his friends will take inventory, get down to work and end all this nonsense. Why? Because too many intelligent people have their eyes focused on them.

Sincerely yours,
JOHN E. SMITH

Travel Experts Advise Lush Days Over for Resorts

Albany, N. Y., April 1 (AP)—Travel experts advised New York resort operators today that the post-war honeymoon was over for the tourist business.

They told nearly 100 resort men attending the second annual travel forum here to expect "some" decline in tourists expenditures this year.

The travel business has moved from a "sellers to a buyers market" because of high prices, they said, and the industry will have to work harder for tourist dollars.

The forum was sponsored by the State Commerce Department and the State Travel Council, an organization of business men.

"Genuine hospitality" toward tourists was urged by Elmer Jenkins of Washington, national travel director of the American Automobile Association.

"The peacetime public is becoming fed up with attitudes of arrogance or indifference on the part of our trades and service people," he declared.

Don Short of New York city, secretary of the year-around vacation committee of the National Association of Travel Officials, declared, "the honeymoon is over and the bride is beginning to go practical."

"From now on she' going to be a bit more choosy, she's going to count her change and she's going to bargain before she buys," he said.

Short urged that resorts remain open longer and develop new attractions for spring and fall.

Director Harold Keller of the Commerce Department recommended that more emphasis be placed on catering to office and industrial workers. He said 50 per cent of those with paid vacations didn't leave their home communities last summer.

Herbert C. Campbell, state publicity director, told the forum that the "major part" of the Commerce Department's $100,000 appropriations this year would go to newspapers in the northeastern states.

Box Factory Burns

New York, April 2 (AP)—Flames swept through the three-story brick building of the Kaplan Packing Box Company early today, leaving it almost a total loss. It took firemen more than an hour to conquer the blaze in the plane at 383 West 12th street, between West and Washington streets near the Hudson riverfront. Three fireboats stretched hose from the river. Thirteen engine companies, four hook and ladder companies and rescue apparatus also responded.

Mitchell Is Chosen By Travel Council

Albany, N. Y., April 2 (AP)—W. Grant Mitchell of Alexandria Bay again heads the State Travel Council, an organization of New York resort operators and other business men.

He was reelected president of the organization yesterday following the second annual travel forum sponsored by the council and the State Department of Commerce.

Other officers reelected were Vice Presidents Edward M. Huben of Kingston, H. M. Day of Syracuse, Frank W. Kridel of New York city and Seymour A. Miller of Albany; Treasurer John A. Williams of Syracuse and Executive Director Joseph J. Horan of Albany.

Wifey Does Directing

Pasadena, April 2 (AP)—Backseat driving had its day in court in Edgar A. Pratt's case. Pratt, 52, pleaded guilty yesterday to a minor traffic violation. Up rushed a woman saying, "I told you to plead not guilty." "She's my wife," explained Pratt to Judge J. Russell Morton. The plea was changed to innocent and trial set for April 13.

Part Scores Decide The Close Matches

BY WILLIAM E. McKENNEY
America's Card Authority
Written for NEA Service

Part scores are very important in tourney play. In the Vanderbilt Cup tournament this year one team was eliminated by 30 points, another one by 80. In the final match after two sessions of play there was a difference of only 270 points.

Today's hand involved one of the closest battles for a part score contract I have ever seen. To defeat the contract Iselin Simon (West) of the New York Bridge Whist Club team had to execute a very fine play.

Simon cashed the queen and jack of clubs, then shifted to the nine of spades. Dummy's ace and king of spades took the next two tricks, and the third spade was ruffed by declarer with the six of diamonds. Simon overruffed—but with the king.

Then he led the jack of hearts, dummy put on the queen, East the king and declarer won. At this point declarer led the ten of diamonds. Believing Simon could not have the jack of diamonds since he ruffed with the king declarer played the queen from dummy—and East showed out. Now there was no way for South to keep from losing another trump trick and two hearts, and the contract was set 500 points.

During the meeting of Wiltwyck Chapter, D.A.R., Thursday afternoon at the Chapter House, at which Mrs. Maynard Mizel, presided, it was announced that the election of officers would take place at the May 6 meeting with Mrs. W. W. Dean Hayes, Mrs. Lancelot Phelps and Mrs. R. H. D. Boerker acting as the nominating committee. A spring luncheon also will be held that day.

Mrs. R. R. Emperingham reported on the recommendations of the local board namely a donation to the Ulster County Girl Scout fund, transfer of funds from the regular treasury to the old stone house fund, and the purchase of an insignia for use by the junior president of C.A.R. during his term of office.

It also was announced by Mrs. Burdette R. Tuttle that a receipt of gifts from an Indian woman in charge of charitable work on the reservations had been received.

Mrs. William McGregor Mills, who visited Tomassee and approved the school during her stay in South Carolina, told the members of many items of interest concerning the school and progress made by Kathleen Reardon who has been the protege of Wiltwyck Chapter for the last nine years. A book review on Thomas Costain's "The Moneyman" was given by Warren Russell who was introduced by Mrs. Russell, chairman of the entertainment committee. Mr. Russell began with some items concerning the author and then gave a synopsis of the story and description of characters involved and lastly the ideas with which he was most impressed. They were the interweaving of characters, expose of the medical profession, economics of the time (nobility at that time, not money, counted), the injustice meted out to those in the court and jails, and most important that nobility was just beginning to feel the surge and voice of the common people. The time was in the year 1450, the plot in France during the reign of Charles VII.

A social hour followed with the Mesdames W. W. Dean Hayes, Lancelot Phelps and Burdette Tuttle acting as hostesses.

Capacity Audience Attends Portrayal Of 'Everywoman'

A capacity audience heard Miss Emma Jane Randalle in her portrayal of "Everywoman," modeled on ancient morality plays by Walter Browne, Wednesday evening in St. Joseph's School Hall. The presentation was sponsored under the auspices of Court Santa Maria, 166, Catholic Daughters of America.

Finding Youth is passing, Beauty fading and Modesty dying and that she is alone, she realizes her pilgrimage is a failure. She meets Truth and returns home to find that Love has been her next door neighbor. As they pass Nobody says be merciful, just, fair to Everywoman everywhere. Her faults are many, nobody is to blame.

Warner Brothers Studio in Hollywood is now making "Everywoman" in technicolor starring Jeannette MacDonald and Tyrone Power.

As an encore Miss Randalle gave Joyce Kilmer's "Stars" and told he always carried a notebook in his pocket and pencil behind his ear. Returning from the hospital during World War 1 he saw the stars and exclaimed "See the beautiful stars in God's Heaven."

Miss Randalle has been under the management of the Catholic Theatre Guild and has performed in 93 colleges and concerts since September. She has taught dramatics and one of her pupils was Cornelia Otis Skinner.

Memoriam

In loving memory of our mother, Mrs. Louise Engelbrecht, who passed away five years ago, April 1, 1943.

If all the world was ours to give,
We would give it, yes and more;
To clasp the hand of mother Dear,
And see her smile once more.
And those who have a mother,
Treasure her with care;
For you will never know her value,
Till you see her empty chair.

Signed
LOVING DAUGHTERS.

The airport said 85 inbound and outbound flights were canceled during the 12 hours which ended at 8 p. m. when flights were resumed.

The President said, too, that he is confident the men and women of this country "prefer the maintenance of our national strength to a reduction in taxes under the present circumstances.

"I consider it my clear duty, therefore, to return, H.R. 4790 (the tax bill) without my approval."

While $4,800,000,000 is the figure Congress members have used as an estimate of the tax cut the bill would make, Mr. Truman said it would be $5,000,000,000.

This was the third tax-cutting measure the President has vetoed in a year. Last year he returned two such measures to Congress without his signature and Congress sustained him both times.

in April, 1944, where he piloted heavy bombers on 31 missions before he was shot down over France. Evading capture, he returned to his own lines and was shipped back to the U. S., after completion of 250 combat-flying hours. He is survived by his wife, the former Helen Harris, and two children, Richard and Randolph. Lt. Crandall's body will be sent to California.

Tech. Sgt. Robert R. Evans, 27, formerly of Buffalo and recently of Newburgh, engineer on the ill-fated flight, was a veteran of 21 months of combat duty in the Pacific theatre. He had lived with his wife, Ruth M. Evans and son, Peter, in Newburgh. He enlisted in the air force six years ago. Sergeant Evans will be buried at West Point.

The bodies of the three, Stewart Field reported, were identified by "two medics" who went with first members of the crash crew to reach the scattered wreckage on the mountainside.

The crew began its ascent of the mountain at 8 a. m. yesterday and did not reach the scene of the crash until about 11 a. m. The first two bodies were discovered immediately, the report said, but the third was not found until sometime after 11:30 a. m.

Remnants of the wreckked plane which can be salvaged will be brought to the field, the authorities said, and the rest, according to custom, will be destroyed by explosion.

The practice of destroying the wreckage of planes is intended to preclude the confusion of searching parties which might be called for similar emergencies in the same areas, an official said.

The plane crashed into a mountain, which residents of the areas said is known as Middle Ridge, shortly after 8 p. m. Wednesday on return to Stewart Field from a "routine training flight" to Westover Airforce Base, Mass.

It had left Stewart Field at 5:48 p. m., and after arriving at the Westover base, discharged Tech. Sgt. Paul Viens, of Stewart Field, who had made the trip as a passenger.

The plane checked out of Westover at 7:44 p. m., the report said, and the first report of the crash to reach Steward Field came at 9:30 p. m. when Pvt. Ray Buxton, dispatcher for base operations, reported receiving a telephone call from Lester Davis of West Shokan announcing that a plane had crashed in the area.

Two Are Arrested For Street Fighting

Arrested during a street fight on St. James street just off Broadway about 7 p. m. Thursday, two men pleaded guilty to charges of disorderly conduct in city court this morning and were given a sentence of 10 days in jail or a $10 fine by City Judge Matthew V. Cahill.

Police identified the men as Raymond Miller, 28, of Accord, who paid his fine and was released, and Stanley Purdy, 31, who gave his address as 114 Tremper avenue. Purdy is being held pending payment of the fine, Judge Cahill said at noon today.

The arrests were made by Patrolmen Edward Leonard and James Burns. They said that the fight had been apparently going on for some time and the men were exhausted when the police arrived, but were still "slugging away." A small group had gathered to witness the fight.

Marines Say . . .

the four Marines said in an interview they did not known the Chinese they saw Christmas Day were Communists.

"We thought they were Nationalist troops, so we waved out hats and hollered 'meikuo' (American Marines)," said Pollard.

"Then they opend fire point blank at us from about 200 yards."

Pollard said the Marines did not return the Communists' fire.

"When the Reds stopped firing, we stood up from behind the jeep where we had run for shelter," he went on. "I saw Brayton lying on his back. He was bleeding from a wound in his arm."

Pollard said the Communists refused to let the Marines administer first aid to Brayton.

Brig. Gen. G. C. Thomas, commanding fleet Marine forces in the western Pacific, said Brayton's body would be returned to Marine Headquarters here in a few days. He did not elaborate.

Gilson said that while the Education department "recognizes" the two and one-half hour one-session kindergarten program as "meeting minimum requirements, it recommends a two-session, five-hour day."

"Similarly," he added, "the department considers that a six-hour day for the secondary school is desirable if adequate recognition is to be given both general and special areas of study."

Barone Stops Blackburn on Technical Knockout in Fifth Round

Dorpian in Great Comeback In Sensational Main Event

The Tony Barone who shellacked hawk-faced Cliff Blackburn of Montreal, Canada, in last night's thunderous feature event on the B'nai B'rith boxing card at municipal auditorium couldn't have been the same young man whom Jimmy Bean of Poughkeepsie almost annihilated the last time he showed here.

A jam-packed S.R.O. crowd of fight-famished, fistic faithful would have told you that after watching the Durable Dorpian do an artistic "pro" job in polishing off the tall Canadian lumberjack helper in 1 minute 36 seconds of the fifth round.

A huge crowd turned out to greet the perfectly conditioned, hard hitting Canadian boxing squad and were rewarded with the usual fine performances. Every Canadian won except Blackburn, who admittedly faced the toughest assignment.

Ronnie Lacelle, the fugitive from a Hollywood studio, exposed his classic feaures to the flailing fists of Harold Morton, the Albany cement mixer, in a rousing semi-final and came out with Morton's scalp dangling from his belt.

The immediate cause of Barone's technical knockout over Blackburn was a nasty gash over Blackburn's right eye which opened up early in the last heat. Blood squirted from Blackburn's eye but after a first examination, Referee Emmet Ryan ordered the fight continued. Barone took a couple of solid shots at the eye which was bleeding profusely and then backed away, begging Ryan to stop the fight. Blackburn was willing to continue but Ryan stepped in and finally halted the brawl.

Terrific Battle

When strong men lock the doors and throw away the key, fights like last night's feature are the result. It was a terrific spectacle of sheer power against cunning and finesse. Barone, in superb condition, threw every trick in the book against the aggressive, hard hitting but confused Canadian. He outsmarted Blackburn consistently, bent him to the punch and then rolled inside his swishing rights and lefts.

Blackburn stalked Barone through five rounds trying to land a payoff wallop that never materialized. After a slow first round, Barone picked up steam and finished the second round with a barrage of rights to Blackburn's body, pinning the Canadian on the ropes in the last 10 seconds. Barone was supremely confident in the third and fourth rounds, pounding Blackburn at will, smashing rights to the midsection, rolling inside and then hooking sharp left jolts to the jaw. A mouse began to sprout under Blackburn's left eye midway in the fourth round.

Blackburn knew he needed a knockout to win when the fifth round started. The round started at a furious pace. Out of a wild exchange in which Barone was superior, Blackburn emerged with the cut right eye. The dramatics piled up quickly before Ryan stopped the bout. It was a magnificent victory for Barone who solidly re-established himself as a local favorite. Barone weighed 150, Blackburn 148.

Morton Wins Crowd

Harold Morton, 134, the popular Albany lightweight, who never fails to give a good show, never quite solved Ronnie Lacelle's sharp right uppercut and right hook.

The pair battered themselves into exhaustion in a speedy semi-final which ended with the crowd in sharp disagreement with the unanimous verdict in favor of the Canadian Adonis.

Lacelle punched more effectively and with greater accuracy. Morton's swarming style pleased the crowd but the judges didn't overlook the damage caused by Lacelle's monotonous tatoo of right hand punches to Morton's body and the jaw.

Other Results

Joey Sandulo, 112, Montreal, outpointed Pat Saruth, 115, Schenectady, in an excellent five rounder.

Johny Page, 148, Ottawa, defeated Carmine Bisilio, 144, Canastota, in five rounds.

Ray Smith, 125, Newburgh, had only a Harpo Marx coiffure to pit against Clayton Kenny, 129, Ottawa, and exited at 1:10 of the fourth round on a technical knockout.

Ed Pell, 140, Hudson, knocked out Bill Tripoli, 138, Schenectady, in 1:58 of the second round of a scheduled three rounder.

Fred Albright, 160, Kingston, won a split decision over Art Fennehan, 160, Albany, in a three round slugfest.

The officials were Bob Steele and Emmet Ryan, referees; Lou Tofel and Fred Eisler, judges; Morton Finch, timekeeper and Dick McCarthy, announcer.

Sicklers Set For Newburgh

Bidding for their second Mid-Hudson title in succession, the refurbished Sickler Delivery squad collides with one of the highest scoring quintets in the current tournament, the Williams Street Social Club of Newburgh, in tonight's feature attraction at the municipal auditorium. Game time is 9 p. m.

Fuller Sports, moving toward a semi-final showdown against Dawkins Favorites or Sickler's, are expected to polish off the Milton Packers in the 7:45 feature.

Smith With Sicklers

Buddy Smith, a smooth shooting collegian who has just completed a standout season with the Ithaca College varsity, will add speed and power to the Sickler lineup. Buddy is one of the finest young cagers in the area. Gus Koch, who starred with the Ithaca College frosh, also will be in the Delivery lineup.

The present crew of wicket smashers operating under the Sickler banner captured the title last year as the Veterans of Foreign Wars. Among the holdovers are Jack Ruzzo, Al Thomas, George Bloom, Frank Sass, Tommy Maines, Danny McGrane and Red Emmick. Big Andy Murphy was the chief addition to the 1947-48 roster.

High Scorers

Virtually unnoticed in the pre-tournament ratings, the William Street quintet has racked up two totals near the 70 mark. They figure to extend Sickler's in what should be an interesting contest.

Fullers' 68-55 triumph over the highly regarded Liberty Cabs of Poughkeepsie shocked the railbirds who were anticipating all kinds of trouble for the Shirtmakers. Fullers' bag of 30 baskets was exceeded only by the Dawkins total against Rosendale.

Top Derby Candidates Prep In Three Jamaica Features

New York, April 2 (AP)—Eastern racing fans will get their first full preview of top Kentucky Derby candidates tomorrow with the running of the $20,000 experimental free handicap at Jamaica.

From ten to a dozen three-year-olds, about half of which will be making their first outing of the year, are expected to parade to the post in this six-furlong test.

One Derby hopeful — King Ranch's Better Self—made an impressive showing in Jamaica's opening day feature yesterday, outrunning 12 older horses in the Paumonok Handicap.

The black son of Bimelich toured the muddy, six-furlong route in 1:11 4/5 to beat out Mrs. Ethel DuPont Weir's Royal Governor by four lengths, with Lets Dance running third.

Rate Better Self

Better Self, now a distinct threat to Calumet Farm's Citation in the Derby May 1, paid $9 for $2 and netted his owner, Texan Robert J. Kleberg, $24,650.

The Experimental No. 1 and the Experimental No. 2 — scheduled next Saturday at a mile and a sixteenth — plus the Jamaica Handicap April 14 and the Wood Memorial April 24, are major eastern pre-derby preps.

Two years ago King Ranch's Assault used the Experimental No. 1 as the first successful stepping stone in his dash to triple crown honors.

Principal interest tomorrow is expected to center on the sophomore debut of Belair stud's pair of Whirling Fox and Gangway, and the Marylander W. L. Brann's Escadru. All will be going out for their first three-year-old engagement.

Trotters Take Over Santa Anita Track

Arcadia, Calif., April 2 (AP)—The sulky sport takes over Santa Anita Park, home of thoroughbred racing, today with pacers featuring the opening of a 35-day meeting by the Western Harness Racing Association.

Some 850 horses are on the grounds, including most of the nation's name pacers and trotters aiming at the two $50,000 stakes later in the meeting.

Crown estimates today ranged from 10,000 to 15,000, barring bad weather.

Clearwater, Fla., April 2 (AP)—Manager Ben Chapman of the Philadelphia Phillies is predicting a bright future for rookie pitcher Robin Roberts.

"With even one year in triple-A, that kid will be a winner," Chapman declared.

Roberts, fresh off the Michigan State campus, is attracting considerable attention. Umpire Bill Stewart said of him: "He's one of the best young pitchers I've seen for many years in any camp.

West Palm Beach, Fla., April 2 (AP)—The Philadelphia Athletics break camp and head home today with a full schedule of exhibition games en route.

The A's meet Washington Saturday and Sunday at Orlando, Fla. Then they have stopovers scheduled at Moultrie, Ga., Birmingham, Atlanta, Lexington, N. C., Martinsville, Va., and Baltimore.

Phoenix, Ariz., April 2 (AP)—Buddy Kerr, slowly recovering from a sore arm, is due back in the lineup for the New York Giants today when they meet the Pittsburgh Pirates. The Giants have won five of seven games with the Pirates so far this spring, most of them on home runs. A four-master by Bobby Thompson in the ninth gave them a victory yesterday. Pittsburgh also showed that its home run production is approaching top form. The Bucs collected only four hits but two of them—by Ralph Kiner and Ed Stevens—were of the four base variety.

St. Petersburg, Fla., April 2 (AP)—Charlie Keller, the biggest "if" in the spring plans of the New York Yankees, will start his second game of the year today against the Boston Braves. Keller played five innings yesterday for the first time since last June. He had made one previous appearance this spring as a pinchhitter.

Bradenton, Fla., April 2 (AP)—The New York Yankees, who have lost to the only two pitchers to go nine innings against them, may face another full time man today. Johnny Sain was nominated to start for the Boston Braves, and if he feels like it he will stay the route. Johnny Benzely reported no ill effects from his three-inning stint of yesterday.

Lotito Probe Continues

New York, April 2 (AP)—Police questioned three men into the early hours of today as they continued their investigation into the bizarre strangulation slaying of 36-year-old Mrs. Vera Lotito who was garroted with a necktie. Police declined to disclose their identities. Detectives uncovered further clues yesterday to financial difficulties which apparently were troubling Mrs. Lotito.

Wicks Is Honorary Chairman of 'Y' Drive for Funds

State Senator Arthur H. Wicks will be honorary chairman of the Y.M.C.A. Financial Drive which opens on Thursday, April 22, it was announced by the steering committee composed of Clarence Rowland, A. B. Shufeldt, Clifford C. Rose and Emil Boessneck.

It was also announced today by Dwight McEntee, Sr., chairman of the drive, that Mayor Oscar V. Newkirk will be honorary chairman of the Initial Gifts Committee, of which Lloyd LeFever is chairman.

This committee, made up mostly of members of the board of directors of the Y.M.C.A., are already at work and will make their first report at a directors' meeting on April 13. The first check received at the campaign office was from the Jr. O.U.A.M. and was signed by Mayor Newkirk as treasurer.

Being American Calls For Responsibility

"It is a terrible responsibility to be an American today," Mrs. Harold R. Smith, lieutenant colonel of the Salvation Army, told members of the Business and Professional Girls Club meeting at the Y.W.C.A. building Wednesday night.

She warned that the people of this country must avert a crisis as that which happened in France after the close of World War 1. She said that "race suicide" and the growth of atheism were two of the reasons for the downfall of France.

Mrs. Smith also said she didn't think it fair that we in this country should have such an abundance of everything when those across the sea are in such dire need. By sharing, we would be helping to increase our own security, she said.

The meeting of the club next week will be held at the Y.W.C.A. with a supper at 6:10 p. m. on Wednesday. Dr. Robert Bruce Whelan will speak on "Dentistry Looking Backward and Looking Forward."

Aid Legislation

military supplies to carry on the civil war against the Chinese Communists.

(c) $275,000,000 in military aid for Greece and Turkey. This is to extend a program begun last May when Congress voted $400,000,000 in military and economic help to the two strategically located Mediterranean nations. Greece, like China, is currently plagued with civil war. Turkey is under renewed pressure from Moscow to give the Soviet Union a voice in control of the Dardanelles.

(d) $60,000,000 for the international children's emergency fund set up by the United Nations.

The 10-man Senate-House conference group plugged away for nearly 14 hours yesterday, with breaks only for lunch and dinner, to compromise differences in separate bills passed by the two chambers.

The Senate group headed by Chairman Vandenberg (R.-Mich.) of the Foreign Relations Committee won two major victories over the House.

One was the four and one-quarter year outline for E.R.P. after the House had insisted on only a one-year scope.

The other two to knock out a section welcoming Spain into the European Recovery Program. The administration had opposed this, and the 16 Marshall Plan nations themselves had turned down a bid to the Franco regime.

But the House conferees, led by Chairman Eaton (R.-N. J.) of the Foreign Affairs Committee, won tighter curbs over shipments of potential military supplies to Russia or her satellites — either from this country or from western Europe.

A section authorizing the Reconstruction Finance Corporation to make immediate loans will permit the European, Chinese and Greek-Turkish programs to get underway as soon as the President signs the bill. The European Recovery Program is to receive $1,000,000,000 advance, and China, Greece and Turkey $50,000,000 each.

Congress still must pass a separate appropriation bill to make the rest of the money available.

The compromise version of the bill represents a cut of $107,000,000 from the $6,205,000,000 approved originally by the House. The reduction resulted from accepting the Senate's action in holding help for China to 12 months instead of the 14-month period advocated by the House.

Board Studies

that farmers throughout the country were "all looking to what New York state is going to do."

Kenneth Fake, of Cobleskill, legislative representative of the New York State Grange, said the decision would affect "big and little producers alike."

Also submitting a statement in support of the appeal was Frank Wells, secretary of the Dutchess County Poultry Association.

In their testimony, Julius W. Leffler, general manager of the Linwood Farms, and Schalk, its owner, said that one of the seven buildings on the 165-acre farm was used in part for dressing, packing and refrigerating poultry. The testimony indicated that the original order classifying the building as a factory was issued November 25, 1941, and that enforcement was suspended until November, 1946.

At the conclusion of the hearing members of the board announced that three weeks time would be given to interested parties to file briefs.

The board members who heard the appeal were William H. Roberts, Raymond M. Fisher, and H. Myron Lewis.

Scattered Sections To Have Saving Time

New York, April 2 (AP)—With the exception of the populous northeastern states, Daylight Saving time will be observed only in scattered sections of the nation again this year.

The picture, in general, is much the same as that of last year although some areas will be adopting the "fast clock" schedule for the first time. A survey indicates that some 60,000,000 of the country's 145,000,000 population already have or will set their clocks forward.

As usual, rural areas will turn thumbs down.

President Truman said recently he regarded "summer time" as a lot of hooey unless it was adopted by the country on all-or-nothing basis.

Furriers Threaten Suit

New York, April 2 (AP)—A C.I.O. union has filed suit asking $200,000 daily damages if this city's fur coat and trimming manufacturers carry out plans to close their shops today because of a labor dispute. The suit was filed in Federal Court yesterday by the C.I.O. Furriers Joint Council. The manufacturers have contended that the closedown is necessary because of economic conditions and inability to persuade the union to return to a system under which one wage scale is set for the busy season and a lower one for the slack season.

Latin America Has Little Hope of Cash From U. S. Coffers

Marshall Tells Conference European Recovery Is Prime Objective at Present

Bogota, Colombia, April 2 (AP)—Latin American hopes for large scale United States aid dimmed today following Secretary Marshall's statement that European recovery is the prime U. S. objective.

Marshall's speech to the Pan American conference yesterday left little doubt in the minds of delegates that the United States can't afford blank checks for the economic development of Latin America, although she is willing to do as much as her resources permit.

Marshall's direct language on the economic phase of the conference came as a surprise to many delegates, who had considered United States aid a primary objective of this ninth international conference of American states.

The secretary of state said the European Recovery Program would help bring more dollars to Latin American producers of prime materials.

He added, however, that there was little chance that the hemisphere nations would receive any increase in the way of steel and heavy machinery, since U. S. producers themselves are short.

Marshall said in view of the burden the European program would place on U. S. taxpayers, Latin American nations would do well to encourage private capital to make investments.

Some delegates predicted the secretary's speech might change the entire course of economic planning at the conference.

There were some signs of resentment to Marshall's blunt declaration that he felt there was a "very limited understanding of the tremendous responsibilities and equally tremendous burden that the government of the United States has been compelled to assume."

In general, however, the reaction to his statement was favorable.

At yesterday's session the delegates selected chairmen of committees which will do preliminary work on the projects before the conference. The United States, Brazil and Argentina declined to accept any committee chairmanship.

Sicilian Labor Leader Killed, Two Wounded

Rome, April 2 (AP)—A Sicilian labor leader was machinegunned to death today and two persons wounded as violence broke out again in the midst of Italy's election campaign.

Dispatches from Palermo, Sicily, said Calogero Cangialosi, 36, secretary of the Labor Federation at Camporeale in eastern Sicily, was shot and killed at midnight.

Two of his companions also were caught in the burst of machine-gun fire. The unknown assailants escaped.

A nationwide strike has been ordered for next Thursday in protest against the disappearance of another Sicilian labor leader, and observers feared the shooting might bring further Communist reaction.

Politicians swung into southern Italy today where votes are expected to weigh heavily in the April 18 parliamentary elections.

The south of Italy is regarded as mainly rightist, the north as heavily leftist.

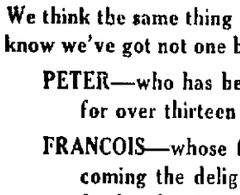

Crawfish prefer streams that run north and south to those that run east and west, on account of the shadows of the banks.

'Setbacks' Are Charged

New York, April 2 (AP)—Paul E. Fitzpatrick, Democratic state chairman charged today that labor suffered five "major" setbacks at the hands of the 1948 Republican-controlled Legislature. Fitzpatrick termed the Legislature "lavish toward big business while slashing at the social welfare advances made under the progressive administrations" of the late President Franklin D. Roosevelt and former Governor Herbert H. Lehman.

Points to Racial Amity

Philadelphia, April 2 (AP) — Bishop Fred P. Corson, resident head of the Methodist Church in the Philadelphia area, presided today at the Delaware Conference of the Methodist Church, embracing Negro congregations from New York to Cape Charles, Va. The bishop, who was named to the presidency of the conference at its opening session yesterday, is the first white clergyman to hold the post since the merger of the three Methodist groups into a unified church in 1939. In accepting the presidency of the conference, Bishop Corson said the offer to preside represented an "expression of racial amity which exists in the Methodist Church between Negro and white congregations."
